O Lord Rama (Raghu Naatha)! Please protect me!

My body is the right home for you. My firm mind is a blessed golden seat for you. My meditation is the water of river Ganga for Your bathing. My affection towards you is the beautiful garment for you to wear. Praying the names of Lord Hari is the flower with which I worship you. The devotion towards your feet is the lamp lit at all times for you. This true worship is performed by Saint Tyagaraja.

O Lord Rama, husband of goddess Sita!

I will pray to your feet all the time and I alone shall worship you! I will hug you until I am content, until my thirst for you is satisfied I will serve you with devotion! I will worship and serve you every step of the way, I will always follow you. It is true that I cannot survive without you; please hold my hand all the time.
